The Wool Tower
WEDDINGS & EVENTS

Welcome to the Wool Tower

Rustic Charm, laid back feels and truly unique.

Loving restored by a local family, The Wool Tower is Northern Ireland's most unique wedding venue. Steeped in history, stories and rustic charm, original stone and brick arched ceilings will leave your guests speechless.

The warmth of the old mill walls and the beauty of the original woollen mill floors will leave you breathless.

It's time to imagine your day with us.

Unlike many wedding venues, The Wool Tower doesn't sell membership to its grounds or facilities, or allow anyone to use its bar, apart from you and your guests. We believe you should not have to share your 'once in a lifetime' day with people you don't know.

Share your day with up to 200 guests

As a Wool Tower couple once you walk through the gate, you and your guests won't be rubbing shoulders with the public or other weddings.

The Wool Tower, its extensive garden and grounds and our Riverside bedroom suites are exclusively yours for the day.

Lets Imagine Your Day...

Vaulted Ceremony Room

Every wall tells a story

This is the Ceremony room of dreams!

Filled with character and history, light dances over red brick vaulted ceilings and exposed walls to create a breath-taking and romantic backdrop for your wedding ceremony.

Every Couple adds to the story

Exposed brick walls, polished glossy concrete floors, cast iron beams and a unique vaulted ceiling create a reverent and atmospheric space filled with character.

The size and layout of the room form a beautiful natural aisle and grand entrance perfect for guests and groom to catch that all important first glimpse.

The ceremony itself is held against a backdrop of exposed brick, beautifully lit to create a dramatic yet romantic scene.

The Ceremony Room is licensed to hold civil ceremonies and partnerships for up to 200 guests.

Wool Hall

A breathtaking room bathed in natural light, your guests are invited to take their seats in Wool Hall for your delicious hand chosen meal.

This stunning open plan space boasts massive pitch pine beams exposed brick walls and quarry stone floors. A beautiful, light and airy environment is created by the south facing Georgian windows and a Juliet balcony with original doors that overlook the courtyard;

Guests will sit either banquet style or on circular tables and flexible seating makes this a beautiful and inviting space whether you're inviting 25 or 200 guests to your wedding.

The Grounds

Enter a private world of natural beauty

With no public or member access, the river, gardens and grounds are completely yours.

Sitting on the banks of the Braid River, there are not many Mill Wedding Venues that offer such a picturesque private waterfront setting. When guests enter the Wool Tower they are transported to a private river side hide away, where they can listen to the sounds of the river, or relax in the acres of natural private countryside.

In the evening the courtyard is the perfect sheltered spot for your guests to enjoy the evening south facing sun, firepits and blanket boxes make for the perfect cosy end to your day.

Cheers!

No matter what your tippie, we have it covered

Copper Penny Bar

Our Copper penny bar team have a selection of drinks options for every taste. From bubbles in cut glass saucers, to tin baths of beer, gin carts and whiskey tasters; there truly is something for everyone.

Why not serve tea and coffee in our vintage china, or add an extra touch with a hot chocolate and smores send off.

Beetling Bar

The Northern Ireland weather is beautiful through every season, but it can be unpredictable at times, with this in mind we have created our outside/inside beetling bar.

Made using an original beetling mill and 15ft log slices, guests can enjoy the riverside views while staying dry and cosy beside the stove, in beautiful, talking point space. Great for a chilled out afternoon, speeches or cutting the cake, the beetling bar gives you and your guests the ability to use the gorgeous grounds whatever the weather.

All the Extras

Goodnight

When it's time to say goodnight, the Wool Towers sister Raceview Mill offers stunning accommodation in seven en-suite rooms. These beautiful bedroom suites are connected to the Wool Tower, sit on an untouched stretch of the riverbank and are designed in keeping with the character, heritage and features of the Wool Tower.

Bedrooms have a private balcony to enjoy a morning coffee, and our stunning bridal suite has a beautiful private covered balcony where you can enjoy one last toast and recount the stories of your day, whatever the weather.

The black sheep cottage sits at the entry to Raceview Mill. It's a quirky little mill cottage, with fun décor, which sleeps 8 in 3 rooms, it's the perfect hangout for your wedding party or visiting family.

Dining

Everyone knows a great meal makes a great wedding.

We have hand picked caterers we know will make your mouth water and provide you with your perfect wedding day fayre. Whether you are looking for fine dining and canapes by the river, or a 'good hearty feed', trust us when we say these caterers can make that happen (we've personally sampled them all!)

Styling

All the WOW without the stress

No one knows every inch of the Wool tower as well as this team, and with access to original Mill pieces, they can add the extra touches to the rustic charm and magic of the Wool Tower. There are several styling themes and each has been curated with the history and ambience of the Wool Tower in mind, our stylists take notes from the river-side gardens, the industrial past, and the beautiful building itself, to create stunning individual styling which will take all the stress away from planning, and help to create a stunning backdrop for your special day.

Our Story

Raceview Mill dates back to 1806 and won international awards for the quality of its woollen products.

The most stunning of all the buildings is the Wool Tower.

The mill shop sold blankets and clothes to locals and some of these originals are on display in the Wool Tower.

Unfortunately, the mill closed in 1980. A building firm occupied parts of the site but it went into administration in 2013 and Raceview Mill was put up for sale with permission for the entire site to be demolished. No one believed it was worth saving.

However, the Mill including the Wool Tower was bought by a local family determined to save it, and the father and daughter team began the task of bringing the mill back to life.

The Wool Tower building was the most amazing location, and they began the job of restoration, carefully considering every detail.

Dawn says, 'no matter what the idea was, and some where pretty mad, my dad made them work. This is what makes the Wool Tower so very special'.

As time has gone on, Dawn was married in the Wool Tower and her hubby, Matt is now working alongside her managing the team.

The Wool Tower is a real family business and we try to ensure every one of our lovely couples feel like part of the family.
